Dear Parents and Carers,

I hope this letter finds you well. What a busy first half-term it has been!

Clair in the office has been working diligently to pull our new school website together, which we aim to launch after half-term. Along with communications from teachers and headteacher letters, we will use the website to keep you updated on events and the latest Oaktree news.

We have begun planning for the Christmas show and will be collaborating with an external performing arts instructor. More information will follow, but I'm already excited about the theme!

Last Friday evening, two of our students, Rowan and AJ, attended the Enfield in Bloom award ceremony at the Chicken Shed Theatre, where they proudly collected the trophy for the Gold award. It now has a special place in our school trophy cabinet!

Starting next half-term, we will introduce 6th-form play leaders during lunchtime. These students will help set up our new play resources each day and join the younger students to help develop their play skills, making playtimes even more enjoyable.

Beginning on the 11th of November, we will have our Anti-Bullying Week, focusing on celebrating diversity. A variety of activities will take place throughout the week, culminating in an assembly to showcase the wonderful work the students have created.

Wishing each of you a lovely half-term. We look forward to seeing you all on the 5th of November—remember, remember the 5th of November!

Warm regards,

Louis Wells
Headteacher
